

So cute! Lion cub quadruplets make their public debut

<http://youtu.be/gLK4MNRdi9E>

Task : Find the mistakes in this report.

Lion cubs born at a park in Los Angels make their first public outing.

Having spent their first four months hidden away in a maternity den the quadruplets can be seen exploring their enclosure for the first time.

And while the three girls and one boys don't yet have names the zoo is holding a lottery to choose them.

Transcript with underlined answers

Lion cubs born at a zoo in Seattle make their first public outing.

Having spent their first three months hidden away in a maternity den the quadruplets can be seen exploring their enclosure for the first time.

And while the two girls and two boys don't yet have names the zoo is holding a competition to choose them.

